You are right, but we did give Brian the community outreach schedule and the meeting is listed there. I have copied this schedule along with all of the E-2 updates to bring along. I will announce both the December and January meetings as well. FYI, J

Jackie,

I just realized that there is no mention of the rad evaluation update meeting in January. I thought we had a date now. I think it would be good to mention it in the hopes that they don't inundate us at the December meeting. Perhaps it can be mentioned at the EJ meeting that a rad evaluation update is planned for the community in January?

Dear Brian:

Thank you for your invitation to the EJ Task Force meeting on November 16. The Navy is the lead on the cleanup and community outreach related to the Hunters Point Naval Shipyard site. Please contact Derek Robinson, the BRAC Environmental Coordinator, to request attendance at EJ Task Force Meetings and any other form of community involvement related to the site. You can reach him at 619-524-6026 or derek.j.robinson1@navy.mil. I am copying him on this email. Please when requesting the Navy to give a presentation or update, submit a written request 30-days prior to the meeting date.

As I quickly wrote earlier, I plan on attending the EJ Task Force meeting on November 16th. If there are any specific questions raised to EPA, I will take them back to get answers. I plan on reminding the Task Force that the Navy is the lead and responsible for the radiation investigation, cleanup and community involvement at the Shipyards. I will also bring information announcing the Navy's upcoming December 5, 2017 public meeting on Parcel C cleanup. I am sorry to say that my technical staff will not be in attendance on November 16th.

We also encourage you and other interested members of the public to attend the upcoming opportunities for community involvement about cleanup at the Hunters Point Naval Shipyard in the attached list, which includes twenty public events this year. At these events, you can express your concerns and ask questions to representatives of the Navy and regulatory agencies. In addition, attached is contact information for Dr. Kathryn Higley, the Community Technical Advisor, and James Bryant, the Community Liaison for the Shipyard.

FYI, Jackie

Good afternoon US EPA colleagues,

During this month's BVHP EJ Task Force (meeting notice attached), Dr. Sumchai will be providing the Task Force with a presentation on Parcel E-2's history, the Navy's recent data review update, and the cleanup progress. Understandably, there will be a lot of questions from BVHP residents about these topics and it's critical that US EPA staff are present during this discussion. Please let me know if you are able and willing to attend and who will be attending.

Humbly,

Brian
